

Loveliest masterpiece of the heart of God is the heart of a mother

Gift guide for postpartum mothers

By Sarah Merck

"The most important person on earth is a mother. She cannot claim the honour of having built Notre Dame Cathedral. She need not. She has built something more magnificent than any cathedral—a dwelling for an immortal soul, the tiny perfection of her baby's body. The angels have not been blessed with such a grace. They cannot share in God's creative miracle to bring new saints to Heaven. Only a human mother can. Mothers are closer to God the Creator than any other creature; God joins forces with mothers in performing this act of creation. . . . What on God's good earth is more glorious than this; to be a mother?"

Joszef Cardinal Mindszenty

I'm Sarah Merck

Welcome

I am beyond excited to share this gift guide for mothers with you! I wanted to curate a guide specifically towards the support of the mother—something that can often get lost during pregnancy and following the beautiful birth of a child. This season is unique; one to navigate as a mother from the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual intricacies. So you won't find my recommended baby products in this guide—this one is all for mama!

This is for motherg.

Whether you are a loved one hoping to give to a first-time, new mother, or you're a mother who has welcomed multiple children, I hope this guide can be a helpful tool for you to refer back to (or share) with loved ones during your season of postpartum with the ways you need support.

What is a Spiritual Bouquet?

A spiritual bouquet is the offering of prayers and/or sacrifices to another as a gift. This can be indicated in many ways!

Traditionally, Spiritual Bouquets can be shared in the form of a card, letting the person know what prayers or sacrifices have been offered up for them.

It is a beautiful Catholic tradition that makes a great gift for hard times or important occasions.

A simple reminder

Don't forget to ask mama what she specifically needs in this season + follow up with her.

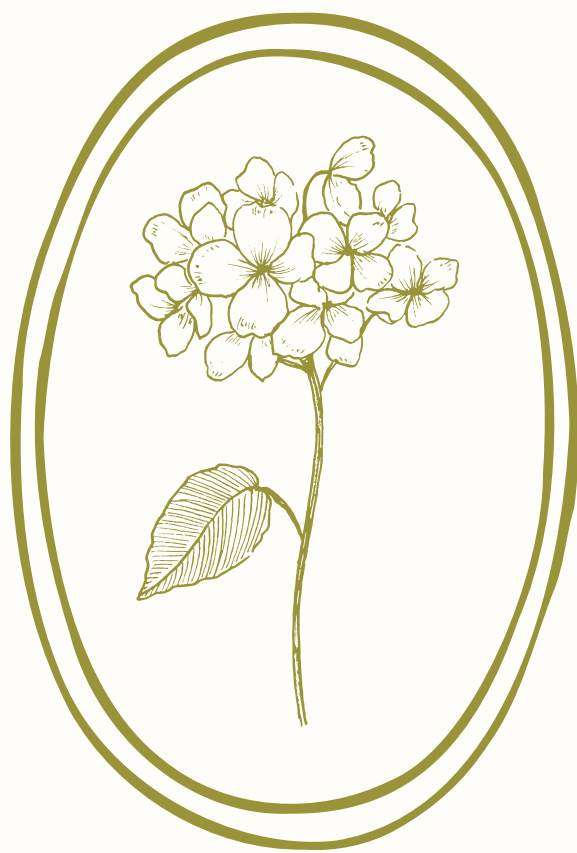

Remember to extend her grace as she learns new (or different) priorities in this season. She is navigating life with a new little one, and needs to heal physically, mentally, and juggle all the hats she wears.

I hope I lighten the Load...

Whether you have a loved one that is due soon and you're looking for ways to support her as she enters more deeply into her vocation, or you are an expectant mother with loved ones asking how you'd like to be supported after your little one(s) arrive, my hope is that this guide can be a helpful aid in giving ideas on how to support mothers as they navigate a new season of motherhood.

Lastly, know that my family is praying for you.
